Several Austin properties — including the historic Commodore Perry Estate, Auberge Resorts Collection — rank among the best, according to U.S. News & World Report's new list of the best hotels in the country. Commodore Perry Estate was named the No. 2 Texas property, the top Texas resort, and the 40th best hotel in the U.S.

Located in the Hyde Park neighborhood just north of the University of Texas, Commodore Perry Estate “brings a sophisticated European style to the heart of Austin, Texas,” says U.S. News.

“Recent guests rave about the architectural beauty of this hotel. What’s more, the hotel’s sophisticated design extends to its dining experience. Lutie’s, the hotel restaurant, provides a curated seasonal menu. Visitors can also enjoy dining while hanging out at the pool,” the publication says in its overview of Commodore Perry Estate.

Joining Commodore Perry Estate among U.S. News’ top 25 hotels in Texas are five other Austin-area properties:

- Archer Hotel Austin, No. 11.
- Miraval Austin, No. 14.
- Four Seasons Hotel Austin, No. 20.
- Fairmont Austin, No. 23.
- Hyatt Regency Lost Pines Resort and Spa, near Bastrop, No. 24.

Hotel Emma, arguably the crown jewel of San Antonio’s Pearl district, comes in on the list as the No. 1 Texas property and the No. 7 top hotel in the U.S.
